

Logical experientialism

Tuesday, 1 June 2021

Junkie

It occurs to me that the mechanical model of the fantasy in play is fairly conventional depravity. Extortion to subjugation by violence.

The message is harassment, with plenty of assertion of imaginary emphasis. So, therefore, violence.

The object appears as general subjugation. The many references to authority, and numerous demonstrations of ego and vanity are resplendent.

Familiar patterns: “the whore who would be king” (Donald Trump); “junkie shooting air into his arm” (Raisin Bread). Both are examples of parasitic degrees of delusion and dependence.