The nightmare in his head

I understand that aggression and insecurity are a typical pathology. That the aggression is rooted in a causation of insecurity.

He's forever buttering my toast, and pissing in my pond. Manipulative as fuck. Angling my aspects for access control. Exploitation. Extortion. Sex. Drugs. Anything in any minute.

He's in a lot of trouble. It's only a matter of time before the sex and drugs take their toll. Meanwhile it's a meltdown a minute.
